Supervisor: Tips for Effective Check-In

During a check-in session about annual goals, a supervisor should cover the following minimum elements:

1. Review of Current Progress: Assess the employee's progress towards their goals, discussing achievements, challenges, and any deviations from the planned path.
2. Provide Feedback: Offer constructive feedback on performance, acknowledging successes and identifying areas for improvement.
3. Adjust Goals if Necessary: If circumstances have changed, consider adjusting goals to be more realistic, relevant, or aligned with current priorities.
4. Support and Resources: Discuss any support or resources the employee might need to achieve their goals, such as training, tools, or mentoring.
5. Action Plan: Outline the next steps or actions to be taken, including deadlines and checkpoints for further progress review.
6. Encouragement and Motivation: Encourage the employee, recognizing their efforts and motivating them to continue working towards their objectives.

This structure ensures that the session is productive, supportive, and aligned with both the employee's and organization's goals.
