

Multiple-Day Trip

First Day - Departure:

- If the departure from home is before 6:00 AM, select Full Per Diem.
- If the departure from home is after 6:00 AM, select Partial Per Diem.

Days During the Event - Stay:

If the hotel or accommodation booked offers breakfast service, regardless of whether the employee likes it, select Full Per Diem and exclude Breakfast. If the hotel or accommodation does not provide this service, select Full Per Diem.

Last Day - Return:

- If the arrival at home is before 7:00 PM, select Partial Per Diem.
- If the arrival at home is after 7:00 PM, select Full Per Diem.

Single-Day Trip (Round Trip on the Same Day)

Between 4 to 10 hours: Always select Partial Per Diem. The hours are calculated from the moment the employee leaves home until the moment they return home. The departure time does not matter for single-day trips, only the total time spent outside of home.

More than 10 hours: Always select Full Per Diem. The hours are calculated from the moment the employee leaves home until the moment they return home. The departure time does not matter for single-day trips, only the total time spent outside of home.

Important:

A - If the hotel or accommodation offers breakfast service, which the employee does not prefer, and they decide to have breakfast elsewhere, the amount paid for this breakfast should NOT be included as part of the travel expenses submitted separately. This service is already included in their per diem.

B - F&A HQ will regularly monitor each per diem submitted for payment. In case of inconsistencies or manipulation in the data entered, immediate correction of the per diem form will be requested, or full or partial reimbursement of the payment already made will be required, with prior notice to the HQ Compliance section.

6 - Country: Select the country (departure, arrival, event day, return). Remember that this is the country where the employee will sleep that night.

7 - Region / State / City: Select the city (departure, arrival, event day, return). Remember that this is the city where the employee will sleep that night. If the city is not listed in the dropdown, select "other".

8 - Department: Select the department to which the project belongs and in which the per diem is being charged. If unsure, contact your supervisor or the finance department.

9 - Grant: Select the project in which the per diem is being charged. If unsure, contact your supervisor or the finance department.

10 - Budget Activity: Enter the budget code to use here. If unsure, contact your supervisor. This information is essential for completing this form.

11 - Account Code: For per diem, always select 86050 (Travel Related Expenses). This information is essential for completing this form.

12 - Country Code: Select the country code. If unsure, contact your supervisor or the finance department.

13 - Rate: This value is auto-filled. It should NOT be modified.

14 - Exclusion: Select what is to be excluded from the per diem for the day.
Here are some examples:

POA - Guide for Per Diem and Travel Expenses

- Select Breakfast if the hotel already offers breakfast service (regardless of whether the employee likes it). If, due to the itinerary approved by Partners, the traveler cannot have breakfast at the hotel, it does not need to be excluded.
- Breakfast cannot be excluded if it begins at 7 AM and the traveler must leave before 6 AM. Waking up late or personal preferences against breakfast options are not sufficient reasons to exclude it.
- Select Lunch and/or Dinner if lunch or dinner is already included in the day's event, or if POA provides lunch or dinner in the outbound or return trip.
- Select Lunch if lunch is included in the conference attended, the same for dinner. Also, in any situation where Partners provides the meal.

Important: If the traveler cannot eat a provided meal due to allergies, dietary reasons, or religious beliefs, they are not required to exclude the meal.

15 - Amount USD: This value is auto-filled. It should NOT be modified.

16 - Comments: Only provide comments for Full Per Diem cases on the first and last day. Partial Per Diem does not require comments unless clarification is needed. If a comment is required, include the time of departure from home, arrival time, exclusions like breakfast, or any other important information.

17 - Total: This value is auto-filled. It should NOT be modified.

18 - This field indicates that when using Replicon, you do not need to add the day and signature information when submitting the report for payment.

After completing the entire per diem in Excel, the file should be uploaded to Replicon. It is important that all the coding entered in the Excel file is identical to what was entered in Replicon. Additionally, it is crucial to include the travel authorization number in the description in Replicon. Any discrepancy will cause the payment request to be rejected.

Travel Expenses - Documentation

1 - Fully approved travel authorization in Replicon (date and electronic signature of the entire approval chain before the event). Without this document, and duly signed, the per diem cannot be submitted for payment.

2 - Invoice for each expense to be reported. F&A may reject reimbursement requests if supporting documentation is missing.

Important: Travel expenses must be submitted within 30 days after returning from the trip. If travel expenses are submitted after 30 days, POA has the authority to reject or even not pay the travel expenses, except in strict cases where POA HQ must be involved.

Travel Expenses - Guide to Complete

All travel expenses must be recorded directly in Replicon. Each expense should be added individually in each line. Pay attention to the project coding, budget code, account code, etc., for each line. If unsure, contact your supervisor or the finance department.

Important: It is important that all the coding entered in Replicon is correct and consistent. Any discrepancy will cause the payment request to be rejected. The employee is responsible for verifying with their supervisor and the travel manual what expenses are allowed and what are not allowed. Any expenses outside POA's policies will be rejected.
