

Microsoft®

Outlook 2010

Outlook is a powerful email, scheduling, and contact management program. The Office Ribbon has been added to Outlook 2010 and is now completely customizable, streamlining the menu system while allowing users to tailor menus to suit specific needs. Search functions have also been greatly enhanced, and the addition of both an email Conversations View and improved message formatting extend users' ability to create and manage mail messages.

Quick Access Toolbar

The Ribbon. See Using the Ribbon, below.

The Navigation Pane with mail folders displayed. Tools and folders available change according to the work area you have open. See The Navigation Pane, page 2.

The Inbox with messages categorized and flagged for follow-up. See Flagging Messages for Follow Up and Using Categories, page 4.

The Reading Pane with the selected Inbox message displayed. See Displaying Messages, page 4.

Using the Backstage View

The Backstage View replaces the File menu and Office Button from previous version of Microsoft Office. You can access common commands such as Save and Print here.

To add a new email account to Outlook: click File > Info > Account Settings > Account Settings. In the Account Settings dialog box, under the E-mail tab, click New. Click the radio button for the appropriate service and follow the prompts.

Note: Contact your IT department if you encounter any problems in adding additional accounts.

To access program preferences: click File, then click Options.

To change your Outlook color scheme: click File > Options > General. Choose a color from the Color scheme drop-down menu and click OK.

Using the Ribbon

The Ribbon contains common commands and tasks used to make changes in Outlook, grouped in context-sensitive tabs.

Using the Quick Access Toolbar

To add a command to the Quick Access Toolbar: right-click the command icon on the Ribbon and choose Add to Quick Access Toolbar.

To customize the Quick Access Toolbar: right-click anywhere on the Ribbon and choose Customize Quick Access Toolbar.

The Navigation Pane

The Navigation Pane appears on the left side of the Outlook window and allows you to quickly move between work areas and folders.

Choose View > Navigation Pane > Normal or Minimized, or press ALT+F1.

Switching Between Work Areas

Navigation buttons located at the bottom of the Navigation Pane enable you to move between work areas. Below is a short list of navigation shortcuts:

Mail	or	Calendar	or		CTRL+1	Notes	or	Folder List	or		CTRL+5
Calendar	or	Contacts	or		CTRL+2	Folder List	or	Shortcuts	or		CTRL+6
Contacts	or	Tasks	or		CTRL+3	Shortcuts	or	Journal	or		CTRL+7
Tasks	or		or		CTRL+4	Journal	or		or		CTRL+8

Displaying Navigation Buttons

To customize the Navigation Pane buttons, click at the bottom of the pane and do one of the following:

- Choose Add or Remove Buttons and select the buttons you want to appear.
- Choose Show More Buttons or Show Fewer Buttons to select the number of buttons displayed.
- Choose Navigation Pane Options and, in the dialog box that opens, click Move Up or Move Down to change the order of the navigation buttons. Click OK when finished.

Using the Folder List

The Folder List displays your Outlook folder structure. Click on the Navigation Pane to show the complete list. Click on a folder to view its contents.

To add a new folder: under the Folder tab, click New Folder, or press CTRL+SHIFT+E. In the Create New Folder dialog box, type a name in the Name field (e.g. Saved Mail). Choose what items the folder will contain from the Folder contains drop-down menu (e.g. Mail and Post Items), and select a location for the folder in the Select where to place the folder area. Click OK.

To remove a folder: right-click it and choose Delete Folder, then click Yes.

To rename a folder: right-click it and choose Rename Folder. Type a new name and press ENTER.

To move one folder into another folder: click and drag it to an existing folder.

The To-Do Bar

The To-Do Bar appears on the right side of the Outlook window and helps you keep track of your assigned tasks, scheduled meetings, and flagged messages.

To view the To-Do Bar: under the View tab, in the Layout group, click To-Do Bar and choose a view option (e.g. Normal). Alternatively, press ALT+F2 to toggle views.

To choose what the To-Do Bar displays: under the View tab, click To-Do Bar and choose items (e.g. Appointments) from the fly-out menu.

To display more calendar months in the To-Do Bar: click To-Do Bar > Options. Check the Show Date Navigator box ☒ and enter a number of months to display (from 1-9). Click OK.

Creating To-Do Items

To create a To-Do item from a message:

- With both the To-Do Bar and Mail work area open, locate the message you want to turn into a To-Do item. Click and drag it to the desired date on the To-Do Bar's Date Navigator. It may help to set the Navigator to the correct month first.
- Fill in the appropriate data (e.g. Start time, Location) in the window that opens, then click Save & Close. The item date is shown in bold on the Date Navigator.

Tip: You can create To-Do items from Contacts and Notes in the same way.

The Calendar

The Calendar displays your events and current tasks (see Scheduling Appointments and Meetings and Creating and Assigning Tasks, page 5).

Viewing the Calendar

Click Calendar in the Navigation Pane and check the box ☒ for the calendar you want to display. Under the Home tab, choose a calendar format option (e.g. Day, Month) from the Arrange group.

To view multiple calendars: check more than one box ☒ in the Navigation Pane calendar view. By default, calendars are displayed side-by-side. To overlay the calendars, click the icon on one of the calendar tabs (e.g. Business Calendar).

Tip: Under the Home tab, click Schedule View in the Arrange group to view multiple calendars arranged horizontally.

Using the Date Navigator

The Date Navigator is displayed in the Navigation Pane. The current date is outlined in red, and all dates with meetings or appointments appear in bold. Click on a date to display it.

Outlook Search Functions

The Search Field

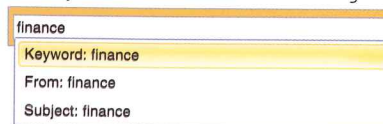

The Search field is located at the top of each work area and displays real-time results as you type search terms. Press CTRL+E to jump to the Search field.

★ The Search Tab

The Search tab appears on the Ribbon every time you click in the Search field, and displays a wide range of filtering options such as Subject, Sent To, Flagged, and Has Attachments. You can apply more than one filter option at a time, and they can be used even when the search field is empty.

★ Using the Search Suggestions List

The Search Suggestions List appears below the Search field as you type, and allows you to further filter a search using context-sensitive criteria. While typing a search term into the Search field, use your keyboard's arrow keys to select a filter option.

Search Folders

Search folders contain copies of messages that meet specified criteria.

To create a search folder: right-click Search Folders in Mail or Folder List view, and choose New Search Folder. In the New Search Folder dialog box, select a folder type (e.g. Mail flagged for follow up), then select the mail account you want to search. Click OK. Messages from the chosen account are automatically copied and displayed in the new folder.

To delete a search folder: right-click the folder, choose Delete Folder from the fly-out menu, then click Yes.

Creating New Messages

You can address a new message manually or choose recipients from your address book. Messages can include file attachments and a customized signature.

Addressing and Sending a Message

- In the Mail work area, click the Home tab and then click New E-mail. Alternatively, press CTRL+SHIFT+M.
- In the new message window, address your message using one of the following methods:
 - Type the recipients' email addresses (e.g. info@nlearnseries.com), separated by semicolons, in the To and Cc boxes. To display the Bcc box, click the Options tab, and then click Bcc in the Show Fields group.
 - Begin typing recipient names in the To, Cc, or Bcc boxes. As you type, matching names or email addresses you've used previously appear.

Use arrow keys to select a name, and press ENTER to insert it.

Click to remove this name from your auto-entry list.

- Click To... or, in the Names group under the Message tab, click Address Book. In the Select Names dialog box, choose a name and click To->, Cc->, or Bcc->. To choose names from other address or contact lists, choose from the Address Book list (see Creating and Managing Contacts, page 6). Click OK.
- Fill in the Subject field. Type and format your message text in the composition area.
 - When your message is complete, click Send. Your message is transferred to the Outbox, and then copied to the Sent Items folder once it is delivered.

Attaching Files and Outlook Items to a New Message

To attach a file: under the Message or Insert tab, click Attach File. In the Insert File dialog box, navigate to and select the file. Click Insert.

To insert file contents directly into your message: under the Message or Insert tab, click Attach File. Navigate to and select the file you want to attach, then click Insert and choose Insert as Text.

To attach an Outlook item: under the Insert tab, click Outlook Item. In the Insert Item dialog box, select the desired item type (e.g. Calendar or Notes) in the Look in area. Double-click the item you want to insert in the Items area.

To attach a business card: under the Message tab, click Attach Item and choose Business Card. From the fly-out menu, click the business card to insert.

Creating Signatures

- Click File and choose Options > Mail. Click Signatures...
- In the Signatures and Stationery dialog box, click New. Type a descriptive name for your signature and click OK.
- In the Edit signature area, type and format the signature text.

Note: To include an electronic business card, click Business Card. Select your name from the address book and click OK twice.

To automatically add a signature to outgoing messages: in the New messages drop-down menu, select the signature you want to use. You can also choose a signature to use for replies/forwards if desired.

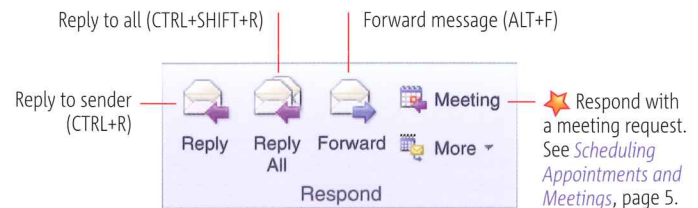

To stop automatically inserting a signature: choose (none) from the New messages drop-down menu.

- When the signature text is complete, click OK.

To manually insert a signature: while creating a new message, click Signature under the Insert tab, and click on a signature to insert it.

Replying and Forwarding

- In your Inbox, select or open the message and choose one of the following:

- Type your reply above the original message text and click Send.

Additional Message Options

To set message importance and sensitivity: open a new message and, under the Options tab, click Options at the bottom-right of the Tracking group. In the Properties dialog box, choose a setting from the Importance and Sensitivity drop-down menus. Click Close. When recipients receive the message, it will have an importance and sensitivity stamp.

To request a notice of receipt: open a new message and, under the Options tab, check the Request a Delivery Receipt and/or Request a Read Receipt box in the Tracking group. When your message is opened, you will receive a delivery and/or read notification in your Inbox.

Creating an Out-of-Office Message

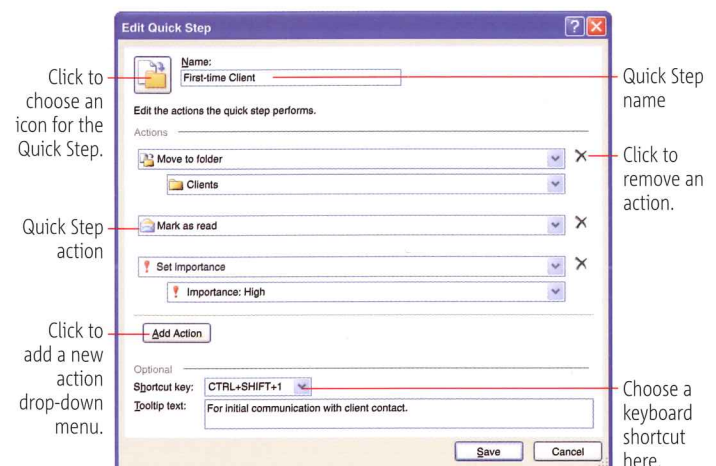

An out-of-office message is a response that is automatically sent to incoming messages while you're away on vacation or business.

- Click File and then click Info. Click the Automatic Replies button.
- In the Automatic Replies dialog box, select Send automatic replies. Choose a start and end time and date for your out-of-office period if desired. Under the Inside My Organization tab, write and format your message. Click the Outside My Organization tab to create a second message for external contacts (e.g. clients). Click OK.

Creating and Using Quick Steps

Quick Steps are pre-recorded actions (such as moving a new message to a folder and categorizing it) that you can set up and execute with a single click.

To create a new Quick Step: in the Mail work area, click the Home tab. In the Quick Steps group, click Create New. Use the drop-down menus to choose actions that will be performed as part of your Quick Step. Click Finish.

To use a Quick Step: in the Quick Steps group, click on the desired option. If you are using a Quick Step for the first time, you may need to confirm actions.

To manage Quick Steps: click Options at the bottom-right of the Quick Steps group. You can edit or delete your Quick Steps in the dialog box that opens.

Receiving and Viewing Mail

The Inbox

In the Mail work area, open your Inbox. Click a message once to display it in the Reading Pane, or double-click the message to open it in a new window.

Here are some common message icons:

- unread message
- declined meeting
- meeting request
- accepted meeting
- task request
- tentatively accepted meeting

Displaying Messages

To change message sorting: under the View tab, in the Arrangement group, choose a sorting option (e.g. Date, Subject, Importance). Click Add Columns to add, remove, or rearrange message sorting columns.

To change sorting order: click on an Inbox header (e.g. Received). A triangle on the header indicates ascending or descending order.

To change the Reading Pane position: under the View tab, in the Layout group, click Reading Pane and choose an option (e.g. Bottom).

To mark messages as read/unread: press CTRL+Q / CTRL+U or, under the Home tab, click Unread/Read in the Tags group.

Conversation View

Email messages sharing the same subject are grouped together in conversation view, allowing you to more easily manage related messages.

To enable conversation view: under the View tab, check the Show as Conversations box .

To remove redundant conversation messages: select a conversation message. Under the Home tab, click Clean Up in the Delete group. Choose Clean Up Conversation. Messages that aren't flagged, categorized, or most recent will be moved to the Deleted Items folder.

To remove an entire conversation from the Inbox: right-click the conversation header message and choose Ignore. Click Ignore Conversation in the dialog box that opens. The conversation, along with all future replies, will be moved to the Deleted Items folder.

Flagging Messages For Follow Up

Right-click the flag icon beside the message, and choose a flagging option. Clear the flag by right-clicking it and choosing Clear Flag. You can access flag options by clicking Follow Up, in the Tags group under the Home tab.

Using Categories

Categories can be assigned to messages (and other Outlook items) to make them easier to locate and manage.

To categorize a message: select the message. Under the Home tab, click Categorize in the Tags group. Click on a category color to apply it. If you are using a category for the first time, you will be prompted to name it.

To manage categories: under the Home tab, click Categorize in the Tags group, and choose All Categories from the menu.

To view a complete list of all Outlook items by category: click in the Search field (see Outlook Search Functions, page 2). Under the Search tab, click All Outlook Items in the Scope group. Click Categorized in the Refine group, and choose the desired category. Outlook lists all items (e.g. messages, tasks) tagged with that category.

Managing Your Messages

You can manually organize your messages, or use filters and rules to automatically file messages and block junk mail.

Organizing Messages Manually

To move a message: click and drag the message from one folder to another (see Using the Folder List, page 2). Alternatively, select the message and press CTRL+SHIFT+V. Choose a folder and click OK.

To save an attached file: open the message and then right-click on the attachment (e.g. Invoice.doc (30 KB)). Choose Save As. Choose a location to save the file to, and click Save.

Important: Attachments can contain viruses that damage data. Consider scanning attachments with anti-virus software before opening them.

To delete a message: select the message and press DELETE or, under the Home tab, click Delete.

To retrieve a deleted item: click Deleted Items, then click and drag the deleted message to a new folder. Alternatively, right-click the message, choose Move, and click on a folder in the fly-out menu.

Filtering Junk Mail

Outlook identifies and filters junk mail by analyzing its content and structure. By default, junk mail filtering is switched on using a low protection setting.

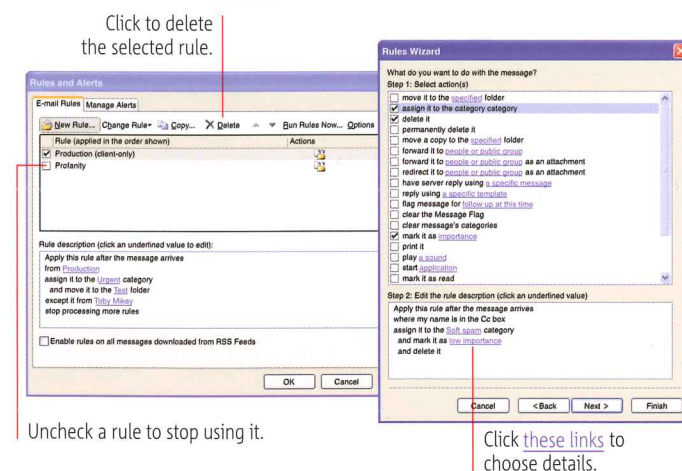

To increase automatic junk mail protection: under the Home tab, click Junk in the Delete group and choose Junk E-mail Options. Choose a protection option (e.g. High, Safe Lists Only) and click OK.

Note: Keep in mind that the stronger the junk filter setting you choose, the more likely it is that legitimate messages may be filtered.

To block or trust individual senders: in your Inbox, right-click a message, choose Junk, and then choose Block Sender or Never Block Sender. When you specify blocked or safe senders, the settings for this sender overrides Outlook's automatic filtering.

Advanced Mail Sorting and Filtering with Inbox Rules

1. Click File and then click Info. Click the Manage Rules & Alerts button.
2. In the Rules and Alerts dialog box, click New Rule...
3. Choose a template or blank start for your rule and click Next >.
4. Use the list of check boxes to specify criteria for your new rule. If applicable, click the blue links in the area below to specify details. Click Next >.
5. Use the list of check boxes to choose action(s) to take when the criteria you chose in step 4 is met. Click Next >.
6. Specify exceptions to the rule, if desired. Click Next >. Type a name for your rule and click Finish.

To make changes to a rule: select the rule. Click Change Rule, then choose Edit Rule Settings.

Scheduling Appointments and Meetings

Appointments are usually personal events, while meetings require attendees. If you are creating a personal appointment, you can skip steps 2-3, below.

1. Click Calendar on the Navigation Pane. Under the Home tab, click New Appointment or New Meeting.

To create a recurring event: click Recurrence in the Options group. Choose when and how often the event will repeat, and click OK.

2. Click To... or, in the Attendees group, click Address Book. Select attendees and add them to the invite list using the Required -> or Optional -> buttons. Click Resources -> to reserve resources such as meeting rooms, if available. Click OK.

3. In the Show group, click Scheduling Assistant. Use the scroll bars to find times when all invitees will be available, then click a time slot. Free time appears as while busy time slots contain colored bars (e.g.) representing Busy, Tentative or Out of Office.

To set invitee response options: click Response Options in the Attendees group, and click on an option (e.g. Allow New Time Proposals) to activate or deactivate it.

4. In the Show group, click Appointment. Type meeting details in the Subject and Location boxes. You can also choose from a list of previously used locations by clicking the drop-down arrow . Click Send, or click Save & Close if your event has no invitees.

Rescheduling or Canceling Meetings

To reschedule a meeting: double-click the meeting on your calendar and, in the meeting window, enter a new meeting time. Click Send Update.

To cancel a meeting: double-click the meeting on your calendar and, in the meeting window, choose Cancel Meeting. In the message window that opens, click Send Cancellation to notify attendees.

Tip: You can also click and drag meetings to new time slots on your calendar to reschedule them, or right-click on events for a menu of available actions.

Replying to a Meeting Request

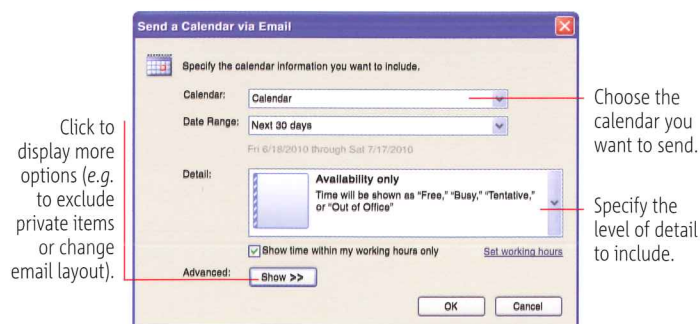

When you receive a meeting request from someone else, it shows up as a message in your Inbox.

1. In your Inbox, locate and double-click the message (shown with a icon).
2. Click Calendar to see if the meeting conflicts with your schedule, and then close the calendar. Click Accept, Tentative, Decline, or Propose New Time. If necessary, choose Edit the Response Before Sending to compose a response to the meeting organizer.

Sharing and Emailing Your Calendar

To share your calendar with another Outlook user: click Calendar on the Navigation Pane. Under the Home tab, click Share Calendar. Address and compose your message and click Send.

- ★ To email your calendar to another person: click Calendar on the Navigation Pane. Under the Home tab, click E-mail Calendar in the Share group.

Set sharing options and click OK. Create your message and click Send.

Creating and Assigning Tasks

Tasks are 'to-do' items you can create for yourself or assign to others.

The Task List

Click Tasks on the Navigation Pane to display the task list.

To remove a task from your task list: select the task you want to remove. Under the Home tab, click Remove from List.

Creating a New Task

1. Double-click a blank space on the task list, or press CTRL+N.
2. Name the task in the Subject field. If applicable, use the Start date and Due date areas to set a time frame, and complete the Status, Priority, and % Complete sections. Type details about the task in the composition area.

To set a reminder for the task's due date: check the Reminder box and use the drop-down menus to choose a reminder date and time.

To create a recurring task: under the Task tab, click Recurrence. Choose when and how often the task will repeat, and click OK.

To view and edit task details: click Details in the Show group.

3. Click Save & Close. The task appears in your task list, in the To-Do Bar (see The To-Do Bar, page 2), and in the Calendar.

Assigning a Task to Someone Else

1. Create a new task (see Creating a New Task, above).
2. In the new task window, click Assign Task, then click To.... Add recipients as needed and click OK. If you don't want to receive a message each time the assignee makes a change to the task, clear the Keep an updated copy of this task on my task list box .

Note: To choose names from other contact or address lists, choose a list from the Address Book under the Task tab.

3. Click Send to send the task assignment.

Responding to a Task Assigned to You

In your Inbox, locate and double-click the task assignment (shown with an assigned task icon). In the Respond group, click either Accept or Decline. If you want to reply to the assigner, select Edit the response before sending and click OK to compose a message.

To delegate a task assigned to you: open the task assignment. Under the Task tab, click Assign Task in the Manage Task group. Click To..., choose a person to delegate the task to, and click OK. Compose your message and click Send to send the task assignment.

Sending Status Reports About a Task Assigned to You

Locate and open the task assignment. Click Send Status Report in the Manage Task group. Address and compose your message and click Send to send the status report.

Note: If the task was assigned to you and you mark it complete, the task owner may overwrite your changes. You only have full control of personal tasks.

Creating and Managing Contacts

The Contacts list stores the contact information of your clients and colleagues. You can manually add contacts or create them from the email messages you receive.

Creating a Contact Manually

1. In the Contacts work area, click New Contact or press CTRL+N.
2. Enter as much information in the provided fields as possible.

Tip: Click the drop-down arrow boxes to add or change contact fields.

3. Click Save & Close to save the contact.

Creating a Contact Based on an Electronic Business Card

1. In your Inbox, open the message containing the card (see Receiving and Viewing Mail, page 4). The card can be found as an attachment in the message header, or as part of the signature in the body of the message.
2. Right-click the attached or inserted card, then click Add to Contacts.

Creating a Contact Based on a Received Message

In your Inbox, open the message (see Receiving and Viewing Mail, page 4). Right-click a name or email address in the From, To, or CC field and choose Add to Outlook Contacts.

Creating a Contact Group

Under the Home tab, click New Contact Group. Type a name for the group in the Name field. To add group members, click Add Members and choose a location to pull contacts from (e.g. Outlook Contacts, Address Book). When your group is complete, click Save & Close. The new group is added to your contact list.

Viewing and Searching Your Contact List

Tracking Contact Activity Automatically with the Journal

1. Click File and choose Options. In the Outlook Options dialog box, click Notes and Journal > Journal Options...
2. In the Journal Options dialog box, check the Outlook activities you want to be automatically recorded (e.g. E-mail Message), and then check the contacts (e.g. Jason Alexander) for whom you want the activities recorded.
3. Click OK to close the Outlook Options dialog boxes.

To add the Journal to the Navigation Pane: click the drop-down arrow at the bottom-right of the Navigation Pane. Choose Navigation Pane Options from the menu. Check the Journal box and click OK.

To view your contact activity: click Journal on the Navigation Pane. Click on the Journal timeline to locate entries. Double-click on an entry for more information.

Working with Notes

Use notes to record thoughts and to organize your ideas. You can easily convert a note to any other Outlook item, such as a task.

To create a new note: click Notes on the Navigation Pane. Click New Note or press CTRL+N. Type your note, and then click Save & Close or press ESC to add it to your Notes list.

To view a note: in the Notes work area, double-click the note.

To convert a note to another Outlook item: in the Notes work area, click and drag a note to any button on the Navigation Pane (e.g. Tasks), make changes as needed, and then click Save & Close.

Help Desk

How do I print an Outlook item?

Open the item you want to print. Press CTRL+P, or choose File > Print. Use the options on the Print screen to preview and set up your print job, and click the Print button.

How do I set up automatic spell checking?

Click the Spelling and Autocorrect... button. Check the Check spelling as you type box. Set other spell check options as needed and click OK to close all dialog boxes. Misspelled words will now be highlighted with a wavy red underline as you type email messages.

How do I clean up my mailbox?

Click File, then click Info. Click the Cleanup Tools button and choose Mailbox Cleanup from the menu.

★ Backstage View

The Backstage View replaces the File menu and Office Button from previous versions of Microsoft Office. You can access common commands such as Save and Print here. The Backstage View also provides access to account settings, out-of-office tools, mailbox cleanup functions, Inbox rules and alerts, and more. To access Backstage View, click File.

★ Customize the Ribbon

You can now fully customize the Office Ribbon, adding or removing commands, groups, and tabs as desired. Hide features that you don't use, or create a new tab for the commands you use frequently.

★ Expanded Search Functionality

Search functions have been given a boost in Outlook 2010 with the inclusion of the comprehensive Search tab.

This new Ribbon tab appears whenever you click in the Search field, and features a range of filtering options. The Search field itself has also been enhanced by the addition of the Search Suggestions List, which allows you to quickly filter a search query. See Outlook Search Functions, page 2.

★ Mail Quick Steps

Quick Steps are mail actions that you can set up and execute with a single click, making it easy to categorize, flag, file, and respond to repetitious messages. See Creating and Using Quick Steps, page 3.

★ Conversation View

In conversation view, email replies or messages sharing the same subject are grouped together under the original message, making it easier to manage your mail. See Conversation View, page 4.

★ Mail Tips

Outlook now protects you from common email blunders, warning you before you send messages to large distribution lists or attach extra-large files to your mail. You may also receive warnings when trying to send messages to recipients with invalid email addresses or recipients outside your organization.

★ Email Your Calendar

Attach your calendar to an email to share your schedule with others. You can choose what details to share, and how the calendar will appear. See Sharing and Emailing Your Calendar, page 5.
