Assessment Summary

Evaluation Element	Extreme	High	Medium	Low
• Facility Risk Profile		☐	☐	☐
• Risk Environment		☐	☐	☐

Final Recommendation	Yes	No
Strong risk control measures and a suitable risk environment
Adequate risk control measures and an acceptable risk environment
Weak or absent risk control measures and an unacceptable risk environment

Approved for use	Yes	No

Notes:

1. The balance of profile against security controls may result in a low-profile location with weaker security measures being less at risk than a high-profile location with more robust security controls in place.
2. Proximity to well protected locations [embassies, government buildings etc] can offer both additional layers of security but can also draw in additional levels of risk. As such, risks through proximity and circumstance may occur.
3. Risk may be present where other guests and events elevate the profile and risk exposure of a hotel for a defined period where an event or meeting is hosted.
