DRL Scope of Work

Grantee:	Partners of the Americas
Title of Project:	Mexico United 2026
Goal or Statement of Work:	To strengthen Mexico's capacity to identify, prevent and mitigate the impacts of the United 2026 games on the realization of labor rights and human rights guarantees.
Objective 1:	Increase workers' knowledge and ability to understand the applicability of labor law and international labor standards relevant to the United 2026 games.
	Output 1.1: Labor rights stakeholders and workers are educated and trained about labor rights, including cross-cutting issues (subcontracting, minimum wage, freedom of association and collective bargaining and non-discrimination) and protections under Mexican labor law, international labor standards, business and human rights frameworks and risks of the games for Mexican workers. Output 1.2: Training components relevant to United 2026 developed for labor rights organizations and training provided.
Objective 2:	Increase engagement and coordination between labor rights organizations, the private sector, and democratic, independent unions on the UHRS and around pre-games planning of United 2026 events, including the implementation of the human rights strategy in each host city, and ways that the Government of Mexico, FIFA and the MFA will address and mitigate labor rights risks associated with the games.
	Output 2.1: Labor rights stakeholders (CSOs, unions, labor lawyers, academics) engaged in the civil society labor advisory network establish thematic Working Groups and organize labor representation for business and government forums. Output 2.2: Labor rights stakeholders (CSOs, unions, labor lawyers, academics) participate in local committees (FIFA working groups) that generate coordination around the development of the games.
Objective 3:	Strengthen the capacity of civil society actors, independent unions, and workers to monitor and report labor and human right abuses, to prepare to effectively document violations, and make strategic use of reporting and enforcement mechanisms related to the operation of the games.
	Output 3.1: Human rights and labor rights defenders are trained on monitoring, case development and filing processes for both- existing and alternative- grievance procedures. Output 4.1: Collaboration with journalists to monitor and report labor rights impact during lifecycle of the United 2026 games strengthened.
Objective 4:	Provide technical assistance to civil society to develop a media campaign to socialize information of labor rights risks in preparation for the United 2026 games.
	Output 5.1: Media campaign (social media, radio spots, newspapers) developed and rolled out to socialize information of labor rights risks in preparation for the United 2026 games. Output 5.2: Information sessions for civil society stakeholders, the private sector and democratic unions established to disseminate and promote United 2026 strategy and UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, particularly as related to internationally recognized workers' rights.
