BACKGROUND AND JUSTIFICATION FOR PROJECT REVISION

The purpose of this Project Revision is to: 1) Request approval to replace Key Personnel position – Project Director (PD); and 2) Request approval to replace Key Personnel position – Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Officer.

1. Request approval to replace Key Personnel – Project Director (PD)

Partners of the Americas (POA) requests approval to replace Key Personnel Project Director (PD) position with Dr. Gabriela Mendoza, effective May 4, 2022, dedicating 100% Level of Effort (LOE) to the project. POA regards as crucial hiring a PD with proven leadership, management skills and seniority to manage United States Government (USG) funded projects. In this context, POA has identified Dr. Mendoza as the most qualified professional for the PD position, considering she brings over 20 years of professional experience managing projects financed by the USG including the United States Agency of International Development (USAID), the United States Department of State (USDOS) and by international organizations such as International Development Law Organization (IDLO), as well as her relevant work experience within the Government of Mexico. Dr. Mendoza meets all the requirements outlined in the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA).

Given her valuable professional experience, and success in leading international development funded projects, along with her knowledge of relevant human rights issues, POA believes that Dr. Mendoza will be able to lead the project and strengthen the project's staffing for an effective implementation of activities to achieve the expected outcomes. Through her extensive professional experience, she has proven to lead the design and management of strategic projects working in close collaboration with international agencies, government entities and civil society in Mexico. She has built strong positive relationships with key stakeholders gaining valuable experience establishing and maintaining systems for managing project operations, including achieving targets, meeting deadlines, and managing the development of reports, and addressing sensitive human rights and access to justice issues in Mexico among this diverse group of key stakeholders.

Dr. Mendoza is native Spanish speaker and fluent in English.

Please find below key highlights from her professional experience:

- From 2018 to 2021, Dr. Mendoza served as Diplomatic Representative and Country Director of the International Development Law Organization (IDLO) in Mexico, for the implementation of a $19M USD project titled "Supporting Rule of Law in Mexico: strengthening public security sector capacity to consolidate the Criminal Justice System reform" aiming to capacity development and professionalization of state and municipal police officers, financed by the United States Department of State (DOS). The project has been widely recognized by the Government of Mexico at the state and federal level, as well as by international cooperation agencies of various countries and the United Nations.

- From 2016 to 2017, Dr. Mendoza served as Deputy Project Director for the $25M USD project titled "Juntos Para la Prevencion de la Violencia" implemented by Chemonics and funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). She supervised a team of 27 people in project offices located in Mexico City, Monterrey, Guadalajara, Morelia and Tijuana. Dr. Mendoza was responsible for the oversight and implementation of programmatic activities, including meeting Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) aspects. She also oversaw planning, activity design, and programmatic decision- making while liaising directly with subcontractors and key stakeholders.

- In 2015, Dr. Mendoza was awarded a 50x50 Changemaker by the Woodrow Wilson Center and the Honor Award by the DOS, in recognition of her professional career for being an agent of social change, in regards to strengthening Mexican civil society organizations for the effective implementation of their development agendas and the promotion of a culture of lawfulness. Moreover in 2013, she was selected by DOS and the Wilson Center to participate in the Institute for Women's Leadership in Latin America to share her career experience-based accomplishments with young women starting their professional career.

- From 2013 to 2016, Dr. Mendoza served as Grants Officer at the Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs (INL), United States Embassy in Mexico. In this role, she oversaw 15 grants, overseeing the Merida Initiative Culture of Lawfulness programs aimed to instill a sense of individual responsibility to uphold the rule of law in Mexico, with the larger goal of reducing crime and corruption. The projects promoted civic participation, efficient public services, and government transparency.

- Dr. Mendoza has published works on various issues of international politics, human rights theory and practice, comparative anthropological analysis of civil society organizations, awareness-raising and mobilization processes, studies on civil society organizations, and data protection of minors in social networks, among others.

- Dr. Mendoza has a degree in International Relations from the Universidad Iberoamericana, a MSc in International Politics with focus in Human Rights from the University of London (School of Oriental and African Studies, SOAS) and a PhD in Social Anthropology from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid.

Please find attached Dr. Mendoza's CV.

2. Request approval to replace Key Personnel – Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Officer.

POA requests approval to replace Key Personnel position M&E Officer with Mr. Gabriel Velázquez, effective May 2, 2022, dedicating 100% LOE to the project. Mr. Velasquez was selected through an open and competitive process.

POA regards strong M&E systems as crucial to the project's success and central to providing USDOL with timely, complete, and reliable information. POA recognizes the importance of hiring an M&E professional who can establish and maintain a strong M&E system.

Mr. Velázquez has acquired quantitative and qualitative skills and knowledge of M&E methodologies/theories while pursuing academic courses for his bachelor's and master's degrees, and during his professional experiences including his tenures at the National Commission for the Development of Indigenous Peoples and the United Nations Development Fund (UNDP), among others. As evidenced in his resume, Mr. Velázquez has proven success in designing, implementing, and operating project M&E systems from project initiation to closeout stages, acquired in his role as M&E Manager for World Vision Mexico where he supported the Area Development Program unit, being responsible for the startup and closeout of five programs including "Niños de la calle", "Nogales", "Tulpedlac", "Vicente Camalote". As part of his extensive experience with the Government of Mexico, Mr. Velázquez supervised projects funded by international agencies such as the UNDP, the Economic Commission of the European Union, World Vision, among others.

Mr. Velasquez is native Spanish speaker and fluent in English.

Please find below key highlights from his professional experience:

- More than 12 years of experience designing, implementing, and operating M&E systems from project initiation to closeout stages for development projects in Mexico, including defining project activities, work plans, targets, and indicators, and developing technical progress reports and budgets.

- In 2021, as M&E Regional Advisor for the program #TejiendoRedesInfancia – funded by the Economic Commission of the European Union, he kept the M&E system updated, implementing different levels of accountability, generating knowledge management products, designing terms of reference for evaluations, and a draft of the final evaluation report.

- In 2013, as M&E consultant for the Expanding the Development of Children Program led by the Fundación del Empresariado Yucateco A.C, Mr. Velázquez, carried out the needs assessment and programmatic design. Furthermore, he created its logical framework, the results included baseline indicators, theory of change and cycle programming. He also evaluated the outcomes and social impact of the first cycle, developing an impact evaluation report including a second needs assessment to compare social condition related to school dropout in children from 12 to 13 years in Merida, Yucatan.
- In 2010, as Program Officer at Heifer International, Mr. Velázquez served as the advisor of two rural regions in Puebla and Veracruz and launched two programs according to the Heifer project model on food sovereignty and security projects.

- From 2007 to 2008, Mr. Velázquez, served as M&E Manager for World Vision, following the World Vision guidelines, known as Learning through Evaluation with Accountability Planning (LEAP). He was responsible of program design and/or redesign, doing annual operating plans and three accountability deliverables per year for two international support offices, which implied leading a team of more than 150 people.

- Mr. Velázquez has a bachelor's degree in education from the Centro de Estudios Universitarios Monterrey and two master's degrees in Anthropology from the Universidad Iberoamericana and in Perinatal Education from the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de Mexico.

SUMMARY

Dr. Mendoza is a native Mexican with a bachelor's degree in International Relations from the Universidad Iberoamericana, as well as a Master of Science in International Politics with focus in Human Rights from the School of Oriental and African Studies of the University of London, and a PhD in Social Anthropology from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid. Dr. Mendoza has more than 20 years of professional experience managing and administrating international development programs and successfully leading project teams through challenging contexts. From 2018 to 2021, she served as Diplomatic Representative and Country Director in Mexico at the International Development Law Organization (IDLO), implementing the United States Department of State (DOS)-funded project "Supporting Rule of Law in Mexico: Strengthening Public Security Sector capacity to Consolidate the Criminal Justice System Reform," which aimed to develop the capacity of and professionalize state and municipal police officers. Under Dr. Mendoza's leadership, the project's results were regarded as a milestone learning methodology for the Mexican public security sector. The successes of this cooperative agreement were widely recognized both within the Government of Mexico (GOM) and among other agencies of United Nations member states. In 2015, Dr. Mendoza was named a 50x50 Changemaker by the Woodrow Wilson Center in recognition of her professional career as an agent of social change. Also in 2015, the USDOS awarded her the Honor Award for her contributions to the strengthening of Mexican civil society organizations for the effective implementation of their development agendas and the promotion of a culture of lawfulness. In 2016, Dr. Mendoza served as Deputy Project Director for the $25M USD Prevention of Violence project, implemented by Chemonics and funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). During her leadership, she supervised a team of 27 people in project offices located in Mexico City, Monterrey, Guadalajara, Morelia and Tijuana. Dr. Mendoza was responsible for the oversight and implementation of the project activity and achievement of goals. From February 2017 to April 2018, Dr. Mendoza served as Project Director for a $21M project titled "Civil Society Activity" implemented by World Learning Mexico and funded by USAID. The project sought to promote increased resilience among civil society organizations through grants, technical assistance, increasing the sustainable impact of projects, and increasing influence on public policy and structural changes. Dr. Mendoza has extensive experience in the design, development, and management of national and international projects, working with international agencies and civil society organizations both in Mexico and abroad. From 2003 to 2005 she served as a human rights advisor at the Ministry of the Interior and the Office of the President, where she contributed to the drafting of the first Assessment and National Human Rights Program, a reference to the advancement of promotion and defense in the country. Additionally, from 2004 to 2005 she directed the Cooperation Program with the Representation of the European Union in Mexico "Strengthening and Modernization of the Administration of Justice," which began the discussion for the reform of the justice system. Dr. Mendoza has collaborated with the representatives of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and the National Institute for Access to Information and Data Protection (INAI), in the Mexican Congress. Dr. Mendoza has published works on various issues of international politics, human rights theory and practice, comparative anthropological analysis of civil society organizations, awareness-raising and mobilization processes, studies on civil society organizations, and data protection of minors in social networks. She has also carried out field research in different international civil society organizations such as Oxfam International, Intermón Oxfam, Solidaridad Internacional and Amnesty International, and has also worked at Mexicanos Primero A.C. as Director of Institutional Outreach. Dr. Mendoza is a native Spanish speaker and is fluent in English.

Gabriel Orlando Velázquez
M&E Officer

SUMMARY

Mr. Gabriel Orlando Velázquez is a native Mexican with more than 15 years of experience in Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) of international development projects. Mr. Velázquez has been responsible for carrying out collection, analysis and dissemination of data and information from the projects he has supported as an M&E Officer. He has a proven ability to hold programs accountable for their activities and lead M&E processes throughout the life of the project. From 2007 to 2008, Mr. Velázquez, served as M&E Manager for World Vision, following the organization's guidelines, known as Learning through Evaluation with Accountability Planning (LEAP). He was responsible for program design and redesign, completing Annual Operating Plans and three accountability deliverables per year for two international support offices, which included leading a team of more than 150 people. In this role, Mr. Velázquez led assessments, baseline indicators design, learning laboratories to develop logical frameworks within special projects, knowledge management, and the collection of first-hand information for the International Platform for Sustainable Transformer Development Indicators (IDTS) throughout the life of the project. From 2008 to 2010 he worked as program officer in Heifer International where he served as the Advisor of two rural regions in Puebla and Veracruz and launched two programs according to the Heifer project model on food sovereignty and security projects. From 2011 to 2012, Mr. Velázquez served as the M&E Learning Systematization consultant, where he performed systematizations and an evaluation for two fundraising campaigns: "Famine" and "Alto al Hambre". He achieved a systematization of learning that was used for designing the "Alto al Hambre" campaign for the Latin America region. In 2013, Mr. Velazquez served as M&E consultant in the Expanding the Development of Children Program of the Fundación del Empresariado Yucateco in Merida. He supported the programmatic design and evaluation of the program. He carried out the complete launch evaluation and the development of the programmatic design. During the second phase of his consultancy, he evaluated the outcomes and social impact of the first program cycle, producing impact evaluation results including a second diagnosis comparing the same social conditions on issues relating to school dropouts. From 2014 to 2015, Mr. Velázquez worked as a Program Officer at Child Fund International. He oversaw the M&E strategy of the following child wellbeing programs: education, health-nutrition, environmental education, violence prevention, domestic plot and access to water, targeting 61 rural communities reaching 4,500 ethnic families. He did an extensive monitoring of program indicators, built capacities among local stakeholders and hired local staff. Moreover, Mr. Velazquez served as M&E consultant from 2016 to 2017 in the Consejo Civil Mexicano para la Silvicultura Sostenible in Quintana Roo where he supported the design and monitoring system, including baseline indicators, manual for its performing and monitoring achievements capacity building. From 2017 to 2020, Mr. Velázquez led the United Nations Development Program (UNDP) –Climate Change Resilience Project as a M&E Specialist. Mr. Velázquez successfully managed this complex project that combined a variety of challenging components such as public policy, institutional landscape planning instruments, climate change adaptation actions, and inclusive governance, demonstrating his ability to manage diverse stakeholders and multi-level systemization processes to develop and maintain a well-rounded M&E system. Mr. Velázquez, served as M&E Regional Advisor from May 2021 to November 2021 for the Economic Commission of the European Union in Mexico. He worked with more than 26 non-governmental organizations (NGOs) from different countries in Latin America, promoting the creation of Girls, Boys and Adolescents Rights National Public Policies. He successfully maintained an updated M&E system, accountability measures and generated knowledge management products. Mr. Velázquez has a demonstrated ability to apply his expertise in monitoring and evaluation to projects in Mexico funded by both national and international actors. Mr. Velázquez is a native Spanish speaker, fluent in English and proficient in French.

EXPERIENCE

M&E Regional Advisor, Tejiendo Redes Infancia Program
Economic Commission of the European Union, Mexico, City. Mexico
May 2021 – November 2021

Mr. Velázquez led the European Union financed project #TejiendoRedesInfancia (#WeavingChildhoodNetworks). In this position, he worked with 26 NGOs from 19 Latin American and Caribbean countries, promoting advocacy for children's rights and the creation of Girls, Boys and Adolescents Rights National Public Policies. His responsibilities in this position included maintaining an updated M&E system, indicators and general knowledge management products. He served as a key participant in the final stages of the project to finalize evaluations and closing tasks.

Knowledge Management Consultant, Accelerator Laboratory
United Nations Development Program (UNDP), Mexico City, Mexico
November 2020 – February 2021

Mr. Velázquez served as the Knowledge Management Consultant, evaluating gender violence in public spaces in Mexico City. He served as Knowledge Management Consultant for the COVID-19 Social Inventory: an exploration of the Accelerator Lab in Mexico City. The first objective of this inventory was to map the citizen initiatives that are organically emerging in physical and virtual communities in Mexico City to react to the impacts of COVID-19 and cross them with social capital indicators. The second objective was to prototype solutions that help to strengthen the civic response in areas with low deposits of social capital. In this role Mr. Velasquez conducted evaluations and completed five internal reports with extensive bibliographic analysis to support the scope of these processes and strengthen a public information microsite.

Monitoring and Evaluation Specialist for the Climate Change Resilience Project
United Nations Development Program (UNDP), Mexico City
