USAID will be substantially involved during the implementation of this cooperative agreement in the following ways:

a. Approval of annual implementation plans, M&E plans , operational research studies/protocols, and all modifications that describe the specific activities to be carried out under the cooperative agreement;

The initial implementation plan for the award shall be due 45 calendar days after award of this Agreement for AOR approval. The first implementation plan to be submitted will not necessarily be for a full year or may be for more than a full year, depending upon the start date of the agreement. The annual implementation plan in subsequent years will be due to the AOR for approval 30 calendar days prior to the start of the new fiscal year. The work plan serves several purposes including as a guide to program implementation, a demonstration of links between activities, program objectives and intended results, a basis for budget estimates and the foundation for the project's M&E plan. The Recipient will follow the implementation plan year, October 1st to September 30, unless specifically changed by the AOR in writing. Specifically, the implementation plan shall:

1. Include a description of planned activities with a breakdown of the budget, by activity, GH program element and source of funds; including how core funds will be programmed;

2. Identify the results to be achieved for the twelve-month performance evaluation period, based upon the agreed-upon results indicators and baseline data (to be developed during year one), and for the longer time frame, if any, recognizing that future funding is contingent upon availability;

3. Describe expected progress toward the achievement of the results as outlined above and the contribution to the RFA Activity Objective and Results; and

4. Include the implementation plan for each country Mission that buys into this program with field support, based on the country's strategy. The implementation plan will specify the kinds of technical assistance that will be provided, the counterparts (public, private and NGO) that will be involved in the activities, the research and data analyses that will be conducted, the timeline, anticipated dissemination products and expected results. The implementation plan should describe how the program plans to work with other donors and other USAID-funded projects that are active in the country.

Annual implementation plans, including the country implementation plans, will be shared with the other project partners, reviewed by the USAID management team, and approved by Missions and the AOR.

Significant changes that impact the timing or achievement of objectives identified in the plan will require additional approval. Implementation plans must include a timeline for the planned achievement of milestones and outputs, as well as budgets identified with particular sub-activities.

There may be times during the course of this Cooperative Agreement that in addition to the information provided through this monitoring and evaluation system, more in-depth management reviews will be necessary. For additional information see 2 CFR 200.328 Monitoring and reporting program performance.

Title: Senior Technical Advisor

c. Agency and Recipient Collaboration or Joint Participation for the sub-award, transfer, or contracting out of any work under an award.

d. As appropriate, other monitoring as described in 2 CFR 200.328 Monitoring and reporting program performance.

1.13 PROGRAM INCOME

The Recipient shall account for Program Income in accordance with 2 CFR 200.307 Program income. Program Income earned under this award shall be added to the project.

1.14 SPECIAL PROVISIONS

1.14.1 ADDRESSING DATA QUALITY WEAKNESSES

A Data Quality Assessment (DQA) conducted in August 2015 revealed that the Recipient's monitoring and evaluation system for the Indoor Residual Spraying project that ended in September 2015 did not accurately track project data and did not adequately identify duplicative entry of data. The DQA identified two primary causes for these weaknesses: 1) an Excel-based data management system and 2) lack of senior level M&E staff to design and implement systems and quality control procedures. These weaknesses must be addressed to ensure that similar data quality issues do not arise under this Agreement. In its application, the Recipient indicated that it intends to create a Monitoring and Evaluation Director position and that it has begun the process of building an M&E database using Prime software.

In accordance with 2 CFR 200.207, the following specific conditions are imposed on this Agreement. The Recipient shall:

1. Submit monthly data quality reports to the AOR.
2. Fill the vacant Monitoring and Evaluation Director position by no later than December 15, 2015.
3. Transition all data management to the Prime database by no later than November 30, 2015.

The Recipient will inform the AO in writing that the M&E Director position has been filled and that the Prime database is being used for all data management activities. Upon satisfactory completion of these conditions, the AO will remove the requirement to submit monthly data quality reports.
